UNIQUE GERMAN LIBRARY.

Contains Autographs and Characteristic Lives from Great Writers.

The Tauchnitz library in the family chateau near Leipzig contains not only the entire series, several thousand volumes handsomely bound in maroon calf with gold lettering, but a unique collection of autographs, says the Westminster Gazette. Here is a characteristic line from Thackeray:

"Don't be afraid of your English. A letter containing £ s. d. is always in pretty style!"

Equally characteristic is Carlyle's crabbed utterance:

"No transaction could be handsome on your part. The money account concerns me, please attend to that. Friendliness and help cannot be repaid, but money can and always should."

How warm-hearted Dickens's frank words: "Whatever price you put upon the book will satisfy me!" Disraeli wrote in the grand style:

"The sympathy of a great nation is the most precious reward of authors, and an appreciation that is offered us by a foreign people has something of the character and value which we attribute to the fiat of prosperity."

AN IMMENSE ROSE FARM.

Twelve Acres Are Devoted to One Flower in the Soil of California.

One of the most interesting sights in the Pomona valley is the development work now being done by a rose growing company on its rose farm at the foot of White avenue, reports the Pomona (Cal.) Times. Here may be seen literally acres of roses, the slips being planted a few weeks ago, covering the entire 12 acre tract, in rows about three feet apart.

The plants are about six inches in height, and here and there over the tract many of them are in bloom. It will be a beautiful sight when the rose bushes are grown to two or three feet in height, all in blossom.

The work of irrigating and tending the plants at this time of year requires about 25 men. From December until April, during the shipping season, probably 50 to 75 people will be kept busy. At this season the young plants are being pushed as rapidly as tender care, good soil, the available amount of sunshine and constant irrigating will accomplish it.

The Begging Letter Man—But I'm not unemployed, tell him. It takes me hours every day to attend to my correspondence for charitable purposes.

Their First Voyage.

Mr. Ryetop—This here travelers' guide says that new tourists should beware of Mal De Mer when they cross the ocean for the first time. I wonder who Mal De Mer is, Maria?

Mrs. Ryetop—Mal De Mer? Gracious, Hiram, I bet he is one of them thar card sharks that hangs around down in the smoking-room looking for greenhorns. —Chicago Daily News.

New Dish in London.

Hundreds of people dined off roast Russian bear the other day at two London restaurants. The bears had been imported alive from Russia and slaughtered in England. The bear steaks were so much appreciated, that roast bear, it is stated, will in future be regularly included in the menu of these and other restaurants.

Greatest Coral Reef.

The Great Barrier reef, fronting the coast of North Australia, is the largest coral reef in the world. It is over 1,000 miles long and 80 miles wide.

To Teachers and Patrons.

There is considerable confusion in some districts on account of a misunderstanding as to which spelling book should be used in the schools.

The contract with the publishers of "Reed's Word Lessons" does not expire until January 18, 1907, and the "Modern Pronouncing Speller" cannot be introduced before that date.

Teachers must absolutely refuse to use the "Modern Speller" this year, and patrons should not purchase it, because such is a violation of the contract with the publishers and might involve the county in a law suit.

W. E. GRAY,
County Sup't.

Important to School Trustees

The chairman of the board of trustees of any district not having a teacher should report same to the county superintendent, thereby enabling him to furnish information to teachers, and also to aid trustees in securing teachers.
